

Laundered Print Cloth Service

DruckChemie, the leading supplier of consumables to the print and graphics industry, worldwide now provides a dedicated cloth laundering and delivery service for printers.

The service provides print companies with a tailored schedule for collection and delivery of printers' cloths through a dedicated distribution network. Eliminating the time and expense associated with the laundering of cloths, this service enhances health and safety provision through the safe disposal of waste and an assured supply of highest quality cloths.

Customised schedules for delivery and collection, designed around a comprehensive plant survey, involve the provision of two wipes bins, one of which contains up to 700 newly-laundered clean cloths, with the other being a container for the soiled wipes.

The DruckChemie service eliminates the need for disposable wipes and by adding nothing to landfill, helps customers achieve significant reductions to their carbon footprint.

DruckChemie cloths, lint-free and made from 100% natural cotton, combine high drying strength with maximum absorbency of inks and hazardous solvents, providing optimum protection for machinery. Continuous replenishment of new cloths ensures that customers only receive products of the highest quality at all times.
